

PRIVACY POLICY

1. Introduction

The purpose of this Policy is to describe the operating methods relating to the processing of data of users and visitors (hereinafter referred to as "User") of this website, reachable from the following addresses:

<https://ptbagnoli.sg-host.com/>

<https://ptambiente.it>

<https://ptbagnoli.com>

It is advisable for the User to read this document carefully if he is invited to provide his personal data.

The following information is provided in accordance with the European Union legislation on the processing of personal data (General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679 - GDPR), with the Personal Data Protection Code (Italian Legislative Decree 196/2003) and with the standards established by the provisions of the Guarantor for the Protection of Personal Data and the European Committee for the Protection of Personal Data.

2. Data Controller

The company "Polo Tecnologico dell'Ambiente e dell'Innovazione (VAT number 09182621210, hereinafter also referred to as PTAl), with registered office in 80124 Naples (NA) - Italy at via Enrico Cocchia 28, as Data Controller, pursuant to art. 26 GDPR, process your personal data, as described below.

3. Scope of application of this Policy

This Policy is valid exclusively for this website and not for other sites owned by third parties that the User could reach by browsing through links to external sites (so-called Redirect). Interactions with such sites and the information acquired from them are subject to the privacy policies adopted by the individual site and the privacy settings chosen in such contexts by the User.

4. Specific information in relation to the individual services offered by the site

This website is used to provide information regarding the activities and projects of PTAl company.

In the sections that provide forms for the collection of personal data (e.g. contact form), in order to guarantee transparency and awareness to Users, specific information on the processing of personal data is provided, in which the characteristics of the processing and all other information required by law are specified (art. 13 GDPR). These information notices are aimed at defining the limits and methods of data processing for each service, on the basis of which the User can freely express his/her consent (if necessary) and possibly authorize the collection of data and their subsequent use. The User is therefore invited to read the aforementioned information before providing his/her personal data.

5. Browsing data

The computer systems and software procedures set up for the management of this website may collect information during the standard operations of the site, and the sharing of various information is implicit in the use of communication protocols on the Internet. This category of data includes: IP address, type of browser used, operating system, domain name and website from which the user accesses or leaves the site, information on the pages of the website visited by the user, the time of access, the time spent on each page, the analysis of internal paths and other parameters relating to the operating system and the IT environment of the user. Such technical and informational data are collected and used only on an aggregate basis and are not immediately identifiable. They could be used to assess liability in the event of a hypothetical computer crime against the site or upon request by public authorities.

6. Cookies

The website uses only technical cookies, and not other types aimed, for example, at tracking or profiling the User (e.g. profiling cookies, analytics and third-party cookies).

7. Methods for processing and storing data

Data processing occurs mainly through electronic procedures. The personal data of Users are stored for the time strictly necessary to pursue the purposes indicated above, in compliance with the legal (civil and fiscal) retention obligations and the limits established by law. After these terms have elapsed, as the need for the Controller to retain the information ceases, the data is destroyed, deleted or transformed into an unintelligible form, provided that there are no further needs that justify their retention (e.g. pending legal disputes). The precise retention times are indicated in the information documents relating to each service.

8. Optional nature of submitted data

The provision of personal data requested from Users is optional, unless otherwise specified; however, failure to provide the aforementioned data could make it impossible to obtain the requested service or carry out the requested activities.

9. Place of processing

The management and storage of personal data will take place on the servers of the Controller and of the third-party company responsible for the management and maintenance of the website, duly appointed as Data Processor, located within the European Union. In any case, it is understood that, should it be necessary to carry out further transfers to non-EU countries, such transfer will always take place in compliance with articles 45 et seq., GDPR by stipulating, if necessary, agreements that guarantee an adequate level of protection and/or by adopting the standard contractual clauses provided by the European Commission.

10. Scope of circulation and disclosure of data

Only duly authorized and trained persons acting on behalf of the Controller, as persons in charge and in charge of managing the requested service, have access to the personal data acquired through this website. Furthermore, the User's personal data may be shared with suppliers of services instrumental to the services provided to the PTAl company (e.g. site maintenance and technical management companies, mail marketing agencies, hosting providers, communication agencies, etc.). The latter entities will operate as data controllers, on the basis of specific agreements stipulated pursuant to Art. 28 GDPR.

Such data is not disclosed to unspecified recipients.

Further information on data controllers can be requested by writing to: privacy@ptbagnoli.com

11. Foreign data flows

The Users' personal data are not transferred outside the European Economic Area.

12. Rights regarding the protection of personal data

The interested parties have the right to exercise the rights recognized by Articles 15-22 GDPR. In particular, they have the right to access their data, discover its contents and origin, verify its accuracy or request its integration, updating or rectification. Furthermore, the interested parties have the right to request the cancellation, anonymization, blocking of the data processed in the event of violation of the law and to oppose the processing in any case, for legitimate reasons.

We also remind that, in the event of failure or partial response by the Controller to the aforementioned requests, the interested party will have the right to lodge a complaint with the Italian Data Protection Authority (link to the Garante web site) or appeal to the competent judicial authority according to the methods established by current national legislation.

Requests to the Controller of the processing should be addressed to privacy@ptbagnoli.com .

13. Changes to the policy

A possible entry into force of a new sector regulation, in addition to the constant examination and updating of the services for the User, could lead to the need to change the characteristics and methods of processing personal data. It is therefore possible that the legislation and this policy are subject to changes over time. We therefore invite Users to consult the page periodically. For this purpose, the revision is marked in the name of the document as also reported below.
